CLIFTON HORSES STILL RACING

Contests Without Public Betting and the Sport Interesting, Although Lacking the Usual Excitement.

BONANZA CAN GO A DISTANCE.

The Track Proprietors and Officials Give Bail in the Sum of $1,000 Each to Appear for Trial.

ORE than the expected number of racing enthusiasts went to Clifton yestorday, as it was understood that there would be no public betting, which, after all, is the attraction that draws the crowd to sports of the turf. Those in attendance, however, felt that earnest rivalry would mark the events of the day, and they were not disappointed. Scratches were numerous, but there were enough in the several fields to make the contests of a lively nature. One or two enterprising bookmakers made quiet bets, but it was difficult for the management to suppress them, as in most instances the business transacted was done in a quiet and almost surreptitious manner. The opening event, of seven furlongs, with eight starters, fell to J. J. O'B., Tomboy being second and Kamesville third. The second contest, of five furlongs, had five starters, and Dixle landed the purse in fine shape, Mamie B. being second and White Nose third. The third race, of cix and a half furlongs, with eight to go to the post, was won in a very easy manner by Emma J., while A. O. H. obtained the place sud Eumpus was third.

The fourth struggle, of seven furlongs, came the way of Golden Reel, Kyrle B. second and Grimaldi Bonanza managed to get the verdict in the fifth race, of one mile and a hair, Ecarte and Gendarme following the aged horse home as named. Young Duke, togging 142 pounds, landed the sixth event, Roseville, 99 pounds, being second, and mixth event, Roseville, 39 pounds, being second, and Irene H., 35 pounds, third. Had the latter been well ridden she would have carried off the trick without trouble. Details follow:—

LINTON SELLS HIS STOCK.

THE DISSENTING BROOKLYN DIRECTOR SAYS CONSOLIDATION CAN GO ON.

After a prolonged battle E. F. Linton, the dissenting stockholder of the Brooklyn Players' League club, has sold out his interests in the organization and the proposed plan of consolidation between the Brooklyns, Limited, and the Brooklyn Baseball the Brooklyns, Limited, and the Brooklyn Baseball Club, Limited, will be carried out. Linton's two injunction suits against the majority stockholders have been vacated.

Linton was pacified at a meeting of the ciub stockholders at No. 346 Fulton street, Brooklyn, yesterday morning. George Wirth, John Wallace, Wendell Goodwin, George F. Chauncey and H. J. Bobinson were present when Linton surrendered. Linton brought along a stenographer, but the inter was not admitted. After a long debate, in which Goodwin, Wallace, Linton and others took part, Linton handed over his stock to George Wirth. The price to be paid was not given out, but it is in the neighborhood of $10,009.

After the meeting C. H. Byrne had a long talk with Wendell Goodwin about the signing of the consolidation papers. It is probable that the matter will be settled in a few days, and then preparations will be made for welcoming the Bridegrooms at Eastern Park. Linton's bombs were both non-explosive.

THE A.A.U. BASEBALL SERIES, The A.A.U. baseball championship series will be held again this year. In this locality, in addition to the New Jersey and New York athletic club to the New Jorsey and New York athieuc coup-teams, the Manhattan and Staten Island athletic clubs are expected to enter the series. The fol-lowing particulars were given out by Secretary James E. Sullivan yesterday:— Entries of baseball teams, composed of amsteurs, members of any recognized amateur athletic club, will be received by the secretary of the A.A.U. up to and ininding April 15.

WHY THE METROPOLITAN BOAT CLUB MAY LOSE ITS CRACK SCULLERS.

There is trouble in the Metropolitan Boat Club. and the present appearance of things does not augur well for the club's future prosperity. It is the same old story-contention between the social and rowing elements of the club. At the annual meeting of the club for the election of offi meeting of the club for the election of officers Jim Pilkington, who, it is claimed, has won more races than any amateur carsman in the country, was defeated for the captaincy by Jules Maher, who, the carsmen assert, can hardly tell the bow from the stern of a boat. Jack Nagle, one of the most promising young scullers in America, was also defeated for the lieutenancy of the club by Dan Clomens, whose knowledge of rowing is very limited. Every man, in fact, on the ticket nominated by the rowing element, was defeated.

The Board of Governors of the club held a meeting a few nights ago at the Mount Morris Hotel, when the following committees were appointed by the chairman:—Boat House Committee—Mike Kelliher and Daniel Clemens. Crew Committee—John Heraty, Daniel Clemens and Jules Maher. Delegates to the A.A.U. and Middie States Rowing Association—G. Nagle and Tames Pilkington respectively. At this meeting resignations were read from Fred Hawkins, the crack sculler of the club, Thomas J. Mcintyre and P. Shechan. At the next meeting of the club it is said that the remainder of the rowing element, numbering at least forty men, will resign in a body.

The present membership is about seventy-five.
The annual athletic competitions of the club,
which were went to realize for it a handsome sun yearly, have been abandoned, Mr. Pilkington, who had charge of the arrangments; refusing to proceed with them. A rumoris current that the members who contemplate resigning will organize a new club and build a two story house of their own on the river. Other rumors are adoat to the effect that the rowing element will join some of the other clubs on the river in a body, or might probably row under Manhattan or New York Athletic

After the Manhattan boys had exhausted their yelling power the lightning young shater was es-corted to a private reception room on the second floor of the club house, where he was tendered a complimentary dinner by the Athletic Committee. President George W. Carr made a neat speech of welcome and congratulated the young champion on his brilliant triumphs in the Old World. He spoke of the other world's champions who wore the cherry diamonds, such as "Lon" Myers, "Tommy" Connois, "Fred" Westing and William B. Page, and added that it was now the duty of the club to elect "Joe" a life member in recognition of his unequalled record. At the conclusion of his speech President Carr presented Donoghue with a club badge, in the centre of which was a diamond. badge, in the centre or which was a diamond.

NEW YORK CENTRAL CONSIDERING & LINE FROM

THE NIAGARA RIVER TO TORONTO. HAMILTON, Ont., Jan. 23, 1891,-It is stated on good authority that the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway Company has induced the New York Central authorities to consider the proposals by the former company and to negotiate with it, and that negotiations are now in progress. The New York Central people want a line from the Niagara River to Toronto, and the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo company's operations have to some extent cleared the way for such a line. If the negotiations now going on prove to be successful the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo will be rebuilt. It will connect with the Canada Southern at a point near the Niagara River and will be built through Hamilton to Toronto. The line between Hamilton and Brantford will probably not be built.

THE TRAFFIC ASSOCIATION HAS ONLY JUST BE-GUN TO SURMOUNT ITS TROUBLES. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD,] and the result of the meeting will be a more crucial test than the organization meeting in New York, in the opinion of Chicago raifroad men.

Officials of the Northwestern road rofuse to make a statement prior to the division of territory under the various Commissioners, but it is known that it will use every endeavor to have its Lake Superior business exempted from the agreement. That business exempted from the agreement. That business has for years been a honanza for the Northwestern, and the pool under which it is operated will be broken in case it is included in the association territory. Mr. Hughitt, of the Northwestern, has meantime done nothing toward getting the Alton, the Kansas City and the Fort Scott roads to the association.

The Chicago, St. Faul and Kansas City road has definitely determined not to join the association. One of its officials said to-day that his road did not care to bring on a fight and would not do so unless crowded. The Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis has also definitely refused to join the association, and the Alton will not go in except on its own terms.

KANSAS CITY SHIPPERS COMPRI, THE RATIROADS TO COME TO TERMS.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 23, 1891 .- Commissioner Van Landingham, of the Kansas City Transportation Bureau, has returned from the East, where he has been ascertaining the rights of shippers under the Interstate Commerce law and collecting such in-formation as would be of benefit to the grain lealers in prosecuting their case against the dealers in prosecuting their case against the through lines, which are alleged to have discriminated against Kansas City dealers and diverted the legitimate business of this place to other cities, notably chicago and St. Louis. The roads have heretofore objected to making the sum of the local rates from Western points to the East through Kansas City equal to the through rate. The grain men decided to take the case before the Interstate Commerce Commission. Counsel were engaged, but to-day a communication was received from the through lines asking that they be granted a week's time to adjust the rates themselves. The request was granted.

MIDGELY'S ORDER DISREGARDED. KANSAS CITY, Jan. 23, 1891.—At least four of the lines at Kansas City have flatly refused to be governed by Midgely's order that the advancing rate on grain, effective January 15, should in the future be applied to all reconsignments prior to the date the new rate went into effect, and in defiance of it they are rebilling all the grain in the city at the rate at which it was shipped prior to January 15.

ALLEGED INDICTMENT OF OFFICIALS OF THE CHICAGO, ST. PAUL AND EANSAS CITY. MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 23, 1891.—The Journal claims to have positive information to-day that John M.

Eagan, president and general manager of the Kansas City road, and C. H. Holdridge, general agent, have been indicted by the United States forand Jury for violating sections 2 and 3 of the Interstate Commerce law prohibiting discrimination in rates. No arrests have been made, as Eagan and Hodridge are both in the East.

GHASTLY DISCOVERY OF AN EXPLORING PARTY IN ONEW MEXICO.

[BY TE: EGRAPH TO THE HERALD.] Kansas Cirr, Mo., Jan. 23, 1891.—A story which has all the elements of a romance is brought from New Mexico by Mr. L. S. Gordon, who has been superintending the construction of a telegraph line in that Torritory. The party went through a country where the inhabitants were few and far between, and most of the houses were old ruins between, and most of the houses were old ruins which had long been descried. It was their custom to make the ruins their temporary headquarters, and it was this custom which led to the discovery which is told by Mr. Gordon.

On the banks of a stream which runs from a number of springs called by the Mexicans Las Ojos del Muerte, or the Springs of Death, stands a ruined house, which shows that it was once an imposing building. Here the headquarters were established for some weeks, and one Sunday while the men were off duty two of the number began an exploration of the ruins. They found that there was a portion of the house which was not accessible. They made a careful search and found what was seone time a door, but which had evidently been walled up. They forced an entrance and on the hoor of this hidden room lay two skeletons instead together by an iron chain at the ends of which were bands of iron riveted to their wrists. The bones were those of a man and a woman, and the unfortunates had evidently been left to die together a lingering death.

The men wondered at the matter, but it was not until after they had left the place that the story was learned. An old Mexican, to whom they related their discovery, said that it explained the disappearance of the wife of the owner of the place, who was supposed to have cloped with a young American paramour. The actions of the couple had been such as to cause talk all through the country, and it was evident that the husband had taken vengeance on the pair.

not expected to survive many hours. Mrs. Anderson, in her ante-mortem statement, declared that a medium had told her that her husband was unfaithful, and that was the cause of her act. The sad case assumed a new phase to-day, resulting in the arrest of George. H. George, better known as "M. George, the astrologer and seer." The complaint alleges that January 22 the defendant was an accessory before the fact to committing the crime of suicide.

George is well along in years and has practised astrology for a long time. He travels from town to town in the winter and is usually seen in the summer menths at some of the spiritualists resorts. Last summer he was at Onset, and after the season was over he came to this city, where he has remained ever since.

George says that Mrs. Anderson came to him "crazy lealous," told him of her husband keeping company with an friesh woman and wanted him to tell her how she could get his money in order that she might look to the support of the children. George declares that he told her he could no nothing for her.

Bosrow, Mass., Jan. 23, 1891.—Benjamin Rosenhael, the old man who was arrested here last week as a fugitive from New York justice, was set at liberty by Judge Ely to-day. The charge against him was that in January, 1890, he stole a quantity of diamonds worth $4,300 belonging to his daughter. Sarah Meyers, who lives on West Broadway, and whose husband is a lawyer. When Sarah was married several years ago she was given a splendid wedding besides a lavish array of diamonds. After a time the young husband secured a divorce, and definitely determined not to join the association. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD. SPRINGERED, Mass., Jan. 23, 1891.—The will of Mrs. Catherine Hitchcock Lombard, probated in this city to-day, bequeathed $20,000 to the Springfield City Hospital and $5,000 to the Home for Aged Women. The will further bequeaths the sum of Women. The will further bequeaths the sum of $50,000 to be equally divided between the Young Men's Christian Association, Springfield Home for Friendless Women and Children, the City Library, Mount Holyoke Seminary and the Women's Board of Foreign Missions.

Mrs. Lombard is the last survivor of the pioneer Lombard family, of Springfield, and was the wife of the only married son out of a large family of backelors and spinsters.

The Lombard farm was of many acres and situated in the heart of the city. By the city's growth the family became very wealthy, though fighting all improvements. The old house on Morris street, full of oid fashioned furniture, is the only one of the old time dwellings standing in the business portion of the city. Ha occupants despised all the modern improvements and laxuries, and no light has ever been used by them other than oil lamps.

TRAGIC END OF A SQUIRBEL BUNT IN A GEOR-GIA COUNTY.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE REBALD,] ATLANTA, Jan. 23, 1891 .- Carroll county, in the western part of the State, is all torn up over the killing of a prominent young man named Bob White and the scandal which the killing has brought to light. Will Driskell, one of the most brought to light. Will Driskell, one of the most prominent farmers of that county, in searching the woods near his house for a squirrel he had shot from a tree, came upon his wife in company with White, his best friend. Without saying a word Driskell fired twice and White fell dead.

That is the wife's story. Driskell says that when white saw they were discovered he jumped on Driskell and tearing his gun from him threw him to the ground. In the struggle that ensued Driskell drew his pisted and shot White through the bedy, killing him. Driskell and his wife had been married three years. It was a runaway match.

THE VENDETTA FLOURISHES STILL.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.] NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 23, 1891. - The jury in the case of the Provenzanos Italians, charged with waylaying and shooting with intent to kill another waylaying and shooting with intent to kill another party of Italians known as the Matranza gang, tonight brought in a verdict of not guilty. The affair is supposed to have grown out of a vendetta and the accused were vigorously prosecuted by the authorities and found guilty, but on the new trial the evidence was so contradictory that the jury acquitted the prisoners.

Several murders, among them the assassination of the Chief of Police in October, are supposed to have grown out of this vendetta, and a great deal of popular prejudice was aroused against the Italians of the city in consequence.
